WILCOX SEEMS TO BE WINNER

Incomplete Returns Give Him Majority--Keweenaw Figures

With both Capt. James Wilcox of Ontonagon and "Pat" O'Brien of Iron River claiming victory on the returns from various sections of the Iron district, the race for the Republican nomination for representative in the state legislature from that district is one of the closest of the entire election.

Incomplete returns from Iron county give O'Brien a majority of 737.

Complete returns from Ontonagon county, give Wilcox a majority of 733 in that county, and complete returns from Keweenaw county give Wilcox a majority of 140, or a total of 873 in the two copper country counties. Baraga county has not been heard from, and the result undoubtedly depends upon which way the vote goes in that county. Exclusive of Baraga, it appears as if Wilcox has a lead of approximately 150 votes in the district.

Keweenaw County Counts.

As in Houghton county, Groesbeck carried Keweenaw with a substantial plurality, with Osborn second, Ellis third, Martindale fourth and Linton fifth.

Curtis was given a majority for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

The fight for the nominations for county offices was remarkably close. Attorney J. A. Hamilton was re-nominated for prosecuting attorney, over Crebassa, a newcomer in the county, and a recent graduate of the University of Michigan law school. The showing made by the latter was exceptional, he having received a total of 323 votes to 288 for Hamilton.

Mine Inspector John Dunning failed to be re-nominated. John Hebbard won by a scant margin of three votes in a bitter contest, and Kemp and Doney, also received splendid votes.

Revised Keweenaw totals, every precinct heard from, give the following votes:

For governor—Groesbeck, 277; Osborn, 151; Ellis 113; Martindale, 112; Linton, 52.
Lieutenant governor—Curtis, 283; Dickinson 115; Heineman, 114.
State representative—Wilcox, 398; O'Brien, 238.
Prosecuting attorney—Hamilton, 389; Crebassa, 323.
Mine inspector Hebbard, 234; Dunning, 231; Kemp, 207; Doney, 169.

OSBORN HAS LEAD OF OVER SIX THOUSAND

was reported that Osborn had carried Schoolcraft.

Groesbeck carried Baraga.

In Iron the 800 candidate will have, it is said, about 200 plurality. Ten precincts out of fifteen, Iron River not included, gave him 457; Groesbeck, 282; Martindale, 199; Ellis, 45; Linton, 112.

In Delta county, which Osborn will carry by 300 or more, the feature of the voting was the great weakness of Groesbeck. Twenty precincts out of twenty-five there gave Osborn 971; Martindale, 793 and Groesbeck but 165.

With all but two precincts in Menominee reporting, it is estimated that Groesbeck will carry the county by about 200.

Goebie county will go to Osborn. Fifteen out of twenty-one precincts gave him 415, Groesbeck, 354; Martindale, 193; Ellis 79 and Linton 259.

Groesbeck carried Dickinson. The vote in Iron Mountain and Norway was as follows:

Iron Mountain—Osborn, 208; Groesbeck, 418; Martindale, 193; Ellis, 108; and Linton, 217. Lieutenant governor, Curtis, 461; Heineman, 256; and Dickinson, 221.

Norway—Osborn, 121; Groesbeck, 151; Martindale, 36; Ellis, 14; and Linton, 46. Lieutenant governor, Curtis, Heineman, 75; and Dickinson, 59.

Alger county reported about 200 plurality for Osborn.
